Beschorneria yuccoides 'Quicksilver'

Beschorneria yucc. 'Quicksilver' is also known as Mexican False Red Yucca. It has sword like grey green leaves that produce a striking silver sheen under direct sunlight. It produces a tall flower spike in summer showing a colourful mix of red green and pink. Beschorneria yucc. 'Quicksilver' prefers rich soil and is ideal for planting in a sunny position in your garden or as a feature plant in a container on your patio.

Flower: Red pink and green flower spike in summer

Leaf: Grey green

Size: 1.2m H x 1.5m S/Clump forming

Preferred Location: Garden border/Patio container

Likes:  Full sun, rich, free draining soil

Dislikes:   Wet soil, full shade or temperatures below -9°C/16°F.
